BIGAMIES AND PRAUD.

Sentences, of imprisonment, with hard bour, amounting in duration to fifteen months were passed by the Recorder of London, at the Old Bailey, recently, on Charles Hosken, otherwise known Charles Granville and Honry Charos James, 46, an author. Hosken had been found guilty, on two counts, of bigamy, and also by him and assisted him in every way in convering to his own use the sum of £1,500, the money of the Swift Press

Mr. Bodkin, Mr. E. C. P. Boyd, and Mr. M. Shenrman, jun., prosecuted; Mr. Rose-Innes, K.C., and Mr. Curtis Bennett, defended.

The Recorder said that he did not propose to proceed with another indictment which remain don the file of the Court. Mr. Bodkin said the defendant was Parker. His defence in connection with was being married at all.

MIND A BLANK

Mr. Bodkin said it was suggested that the man was overcome by some liquid any order designation which he had drunk in the house before going to the ceremony. So, far from that being the fact, he had nothing whatever, Mrs. Parker was greatly distressed at the conscious, he called at the house in the morning, went away, and came back again dressed for the wedding. And his signature in the register was perfect. The register was falsified by his signing it the name of "Henry Charos James," which was simply assumed by him to hide the identity of Charles Granville, the bankrupt The second bigamy was committed at reward.—China Republican. Edinburgh in 1908. The lady was a Mrs. Caroline Leontine Fawcett. She was apparently quite infatuated with him, and he no doubt, was attached to her, considering that she was a lady of means. Any in pression that defendant went to Tangler with yet another woman in consequence of the alleged intemperate habits of his read wife was quite wrong, considering that two bigamics intervened between the desertion of Mrs. Hosken and the arrest of the defendant in Pangier. Defoudant was passing under the name of "Godwin" when arrested at Tangier October last, and Mrs. Fawcett met him on his roturn, the fact that he had gone off with another woman apparently making no difference to Ler infatuation. It was a pure piece of good fortune which enabled the police to find out about the higamies,

Witness: Very high indeed ; so high, in fact, that he was called the English Tolstoi. Witness said that defendant was fair and very generous in his dealings, and that lie had been working extremely hard. Mr. John M. Kennedy, journalist, gave similar evidence. Dr. E. C. Daniell, of Epsom, and he toot the Same. Only at The ALEXAN- treated defendant in September last.

Hosken was in a highly nervou sconditio n auffering from overwork; and witness told him that he should go away and take a rest.
In answer to Mr. Bodkin, witness said he found no symptoms which might have been accounted for by drugs or drink.
Mr. Rose-Innes saked the Recorder to take into account the fact that defe dant had suffered a considerable amount of on Mis. Parker bors no ill-feeling against him; and that Mrs. Fawcett was an unwilling prosecutrix. She lawed thus man - SATURDAY, 31st July AND The Recorder: She did what ?

Counsel pointed out that from Joseph Edward Harold Terry, and Hosken had already been sever mouths in conver ing to his own use the sum of prison, and that his career was blasted and Prisoner: I'm perfectly conscious of the tragic nature of what has taken place in AGGRAVATING THE OFFENCE.

The Recorder: I cannot bear you further after your counsel. Proceeding, his lordship said that the defendant aggravated his original offence by making a false statement on oath. He had no right to punish Hocken for his pro-s impropriety. That Court dealt with crimes, and not with married at Helston, Cornwall, in 1892, and sentences in the two cases of biguny would in 1898 he was a bankrupt. A WOMAN'S THEATRE.

First Lady to Run Ba-Ta-Clan In Baris.

" It is fifteen years since I bought the Ba-Ta-Clan Theatro in Paris, and started us director. Yes, I was the first woman to run her own theatre, and I have remained the only one." .. Madame B Rasimi chatted, in her box at the New Middlesox, to a representative of "The Daily Telegraph; and told how she came to make the venture of running her own

"I love colour," she declared, " and colour schomes. I had always been in the habit of atudying them, and I had devoted myself to painting as my special subject. When I wanted to earn money I thought it was best to make use of the talents I had, and I know that I could develop them in theatrical management. I was accepted in Paris at once; success followed my first efforts, and within three years I could feel that my initial difficulties had been overcome. In was no easy task; I succeeded a force da travail."

" No. I am not a feminist," she declared emphatically, "Lido not see the need of being a feminist. I am certain that a woman can succeed in her ambition if she throws all her energies into it, and I am sure that if she works as hard as a man does she will gain just as much in money and in position as he will do. CURRENCE OF THE PRIOR I do not see how a man could have done better with my theatre than I have, and I esnuot believe that he would have carued more than my revenue of last year, vix., £24,000.

"This whole industry of my enterprise is carried on by women. I believe "in getting in touch with my employees, so that good feeling may exist amongst those who are engaged in a common cause." pay my people well; my artista stay with me and do their best for me, for they know that I make the best arrangements I can for them. Artists are like children, and I find that they respond at once DER ENGINES. Nominal Horse to this sentiment of mutual goodwill and of mutual labour. Registered tunnage "412 19, together

"There is great joy in artistic work, although there are many occasions when we are all strained to the utmost. For fifteen days before a production no one must speak to me or come near me except on business concerned with my theatrical affairs. A production in Paris is a different thing from a London event of the same kind. The public, in my city, are on the qui vive, everybody is clamouring for admission to the Repeti 918 Ltion Generale. We have a section of the public who pride themselves on attend ing all repetitions and on giving their opinion on the plays as they come out Not to know what is going on in the theatrical world in Paris is to be hopelessly out of tune with artistic progress." It was with a decided voice that Madamo Rasimi next declared that she liked London. " So much help and kind rioss have some my way that my position here is a real pleasure to me. I like London audiences, too. You English people learn to understand and to speak French in a way that you would not find us do with your tongue. We French have no aptitude for foreign languages at all. 'I admit the Consor has been at work on my Revue, although, in spite of that, t has remained French."

Thon she explained how every detail, however minute, passed through her own hands; no small point escaped her attention; nothing was too trivial for her perconsideration. "Do you not," she meried, "feel that the whole production has been done by women? There are various technical differences that would tell an experienced critic that it was ultogether feminine. STRIVING AFTER THE IDEAL. "Every costume for instance, is made in my own thostro, and every one comes from the hands of women. My whole business is a women's organisation. ony all my silks and sating as well my other fabrics, myself; they are all of good quality because I must absolutely have my colour-scheme as near my, ideal as I can got it. I buy every stuff; I use in its original tone of white, and I have them all dyed exactly to my orders. My colour sense guides me entirely. That arrangement of grey, for instance, with moonlight blue against which I have hrown coral-pink. I pride myself on its composition, its softmess, its harmony. CO-PARTNERSHIP.

Manufacturers are to-day exposed to more criticism than any other class of the community, declared Sir William H. Lever in an address on co-partnership and business management, delivered at a meeting in the City of the Institute of Directors, under the chalmanship of Sir John Cookburn. They were expected to adopt the method of every faddist, ha said while producing more goods of superior quality in less time, and cheaper to the consumer, and paying larger wages for shorter hours of labour. The ordinary commercial relationship between employer and employed was one which had stood the test of time, declared Sir William, but employers now wanted more than the mero desultory performance of duty They wanted whole-hearted interest, and 296 the keener the competition became the nore necessary it was that they should have throughout their staff a personal interest in the whole undertaking, which could nover be supplied by a more-wagedrawer.

It was said that it took two to make bargain, but he thought it was equally true that only one get it. However much the fuddist might like the manufacturer to be a philanthropist, it was more important for the workman that his omployer should be a strict business man than a philanthropist. Capital was allpowerful to-day, and yet it behoved enpital to remember that any conflict that might come between capital and labour was much better suttled by an adjustment of rights and recognition of the rights of each side than by a continuance of "conflict. To-day labour was rightly and properly demanding a greater share in the profits of industries. To-morrow the position might be reversed, and capital might be supplicating for labour; but even then the employer could not be a philanthropist. In industrial warfare, as n wars between nations, no practical profit ensued unless it was a fight for liberty. In the employment of labour it was, he believed, right that the State should make certain regulations, so that one manu-Incturer inclined to adopt proper saleguards for machinery and propor regulations fer labour might not be handicapped in competition with another manufacturer who neglected such safeguards and regulations.

EMPLOYEES AND THEIR WORK.

With regard to profit sharing schemes,

he observed that their average life was only about five years, and he believed that the reason was that they had been trying to mix things that differed. He (Sir William) had adopted various schemes during the past 25 years to stimulate the personal interest of his employees in their work. One of his schemes was the allotmont of a certain proportion of ordinary theres. The only result that accrued was that he had to buy them back in about five years at a premium. Eventually he hit upon a satisfactory method of profitsharing by isming certain certificates, which represented no money that could be inegotiated, and yet here the dividend of ordinary shares, minus 5 per cent. Of NTANDING in its own grounds with these they had created 500,000, and proposed to increase the number to a milion, a certain percentage of such certificules being added to the men's ordinary wages. In this way they hoped to solve the problem of interesting their staff, in the profits and lesses of the business, and no profit sharing scheme was complote in which the workpeople were not made to realise that they were interested. as well in the losses as in the profits." Socialists had attacked him on the ground that the workmen should have all. Ho had replied by reading a paper entitled Day-work or piece-work, which?" and had likened day-work to socialism and piece-work to individualism. In conclusion, Sir William protested against the fallacy of expecting to take a man from the rank and file of the working men and place him at once on the board of directors. The supreme managament of a business required to be in the hands of trained men, or men who had duly graduated from the ranks through the stages of committees in which they had gained the requisite training with a view to directorship.

A Natural Remedy

Time was when disease was thought to be due to the direct influence of evil spirits, and exorcism and magic were invoked to cast it out.

Science has taught us wisdom. The evil spirits exist still. We call them " Disease Germs," and they also must be cast out. Once lodged in the stomach or intestines, fever with its hallucinations, or biliousness with its aches and pains, is the result.

ENQ'S FRUIT SALT

is the approved remedy for driving out disease germs. Its action is quick and thorough. It clears the intestines, rouses the torpid liver to new life, stimulates the mucous membrane to a healthy action, and cleanses and invigorates the whole digestive tract.

It may be safely taken at any time by young

It is very effective in the early stage of Diarrhad by removing the irritating cause.

Be prepared for emergencies by always keeping a bottle in the house.

A LADY'S ALLEGATIONS.

"Delusions of a Fertile Imagination."

Mr Firmstone has been occupied for some considerable time this week, says the "Straits Times" of July 25, in the Ditries Court, In considering a case in which Mrs Frances Rodyk, at present living at the Hotel van Wyk, brought a claim for he apologised and returned. The lady was $500 for damages for trespass against Mr Henry Gilby, of the Raffles Hotel ... torday the hearing was concluded when His Honour found in favour of the deternon, Simons, and the Sun Adelphi Hotel. On the evening of one day between the first and the tenth of the dark when she saw the figure of a man matter to the hotel management. scross the verendah. He was clad in his pyjamas. She jumped up and ran outside whoreupon the man turned and ran buck Witness noticed which room he entered and in about two minutes followed him there as, so she said, she had been annoyed with this sort of thing before. Witness asked him what he meant by coming to her room. There was no mistaking the man, who was then sitting on his verandah. Sho told him he had better not to do it again or he would get more than he bargained for. Witness then understood him to say that he was just out from England. The next morning as she went to breakfast she looked in his room and saw that he had no luggage. Enquiries reven'ed the fact that the room was occupied by Bir. Gilby and that he was leaving for Kuala Lumpur, During the day she had a conversation with him and again asked him for an explanation of his be-haviour. She also asked him if it was not a fact that he was living at the Raffles Hotel and that he had been sent to her room at the Adelphi. He denied that and said he was sorry, repeating his statement that he had just arrived from England and that he was going to Kuala Lumpur. Conthe next morning she went to the Raffles Hotel, found that Mr. Gilby had a room

PREVIOUS TROUBLE. Mr. Mundell, who appeared for Mr. Gilby, said he admitted that on June 6 Mr. Gilby had a room at the Adelphi, but that on the following day he moved to the Raffles Hotel. Mrs. Rodyk remarked that on the sixth. The reason why she went to Brilliant Function at St. James's this trouble was because something once happened to her in the Raffles Hotel. In 1911 she lived at the Reffles Hotel for just over a month and during that time she had there and so reported the matter to the trouble with a lady there.

Mr. Mundell handed up a slip on which was the name but Mrs. Rodyd refused to look at the slip, saying that she knew the name and that it was an insult to be asked to look at it. She complained to the management, but Mr. Constantine took the part of the lady. That was because the two were great friends. Mrs. Rodyk remarked that she had trouble in Hong-kong some time ago, and in the boat coming down. She had also been annoyed t the Rest House at Malacea and the E. and O. Hotel at Pecang. She attributed all this to Mr Constantine and the lady previously-m-ntioned. .. Mr. Firmstone at this stage asked if the woman still resided in Singapore and was informed that she did not. The name was then mentioned by Mr. Wundell. Replying to questions, Mrs. Rodyk said her husband had been dead nearly twenty years and too years ago she first did insurance work. "For the last two years she had also been engaged in the work. She used to travel in the Native States, but it was now impossible because of these two people Now she would not think of going anywh re except Penang, where she was safe because

Mr. Mundell then proceeded to put questions to the witness as to his movements throughout the day, finally leading up to the time when Mr. Gilby stated that he returned to the Adelphi Hotel for dinner. He dined alone. Later in the evening he went out on the verendah and walked along, but when he awa lady lying in a long chair the plaintiff and she was reclining not inside the swing doors but in the vernudah. The defendant himself went back in the box and denied that he had heard of h r before the incident. He also denied, in answer to questions, that he was in his pyjaman when he went on the verandah. He turned away as soon as he saw the lady, but the suggestion that he was running away was not true. Mrs. Rodyk, he maintained, was lying in a chair on the vorandah, the private part of the verandah, ust in her room. After Mr. Mundell had commented upon the case, His Honour said that it was one in which he had no difficulty in coming to a conclusion. There had been no trespass at all, and he accepted the defendant's statement with regard to the matter. He could only come to two conclusions, either that the plaintiff was suffering from delusions of a fertile imagination or that she was deliberately lying, and he would prefer to take the charitable view that the was suffering from hallucinations. If the plaintiff had taken the trouble to find out that, before the alleged trespace, Mr Gilby, whom she had made her victim, had only been in Singapore a few hours; he thought she would have selected someone else. As stated, judgment was given for defendant,

Sequel to a Canton Fire. CHINESE DOCTOR'S CLAIM:

In the Summary Court this morning, before the Puisne Judge, Mr. Justice Kemp, an action was heard in which i Chinese doctor of medicine Ip Suk San, sued the Po Wa Insurance Company Lid., of 84. Banham Strand, East, to recover-$1000, under a policy of fire insurance for $700 upon his house at Canton, and $300 on fixtures, in consideration of which he paid a promium of $25. The policy ran May 24, 1910, to May 24, 1911. In the statement of defence defendants admitted the policy, the amount insured and the premium paid, but denied that at the time of the fire plaintiff had any interest in the house. They admitted the damage by fire, but not to the full, tent of the claim, and further said plaintiff failed to give notice of the fire within the proper time laid; down in the insurance rogulations. They also silegid thatudalendant p promises work wilfully burnt down by defendant, his servants or ageuts, and that this money claimed under the policy was not recorstable torther that plaintiff did not comply with the regulations or governing fire insurance policies issued in Hongkong and that he did not deliver an inventory within a ressonable and proper time In his reply to this statement plaintiff said he gave notice of the fire to defendanta agent in Hongkong. He further sald that no regulations governing fire insur ance were issued in Hongkong other than the law of Hongkong with reference to such policies. In the alternative the plaintiff said the same was not incorporated into and was not applicable to the policy; and he further said there was no obligation give written notice of the claim; and that he was under no obligation to furnish defendants with an inventory of the goods destroyed, and if he was, the defendants had waived their rights to in ist npon an inventory. Mr. W. B. Hind, of Meser's Brutton and Hett, appeared for the plaintiff, and Mr. P. W. Goldring, of Messes. Goldring and Russ, was for the defendant company. Mr. Hind said the plaintiff, who now practices in Kongmoon, was formerly in practise in the house where the fire took place, which ho leased, and upon which he had spent $1150 in rebuilding; that showed his interest in the premises. GUNBOAT'S VOYAGE TO BEARURE NATIVES

The first-class Japanese gun-boat Yodo, which left Sasebo on March 2 of this year for the || South Sea Islands, has returned to the navel port after visiting the Dutch Indies, Borneo, the Philippines and other

Commander Hosaka, commander of the gun-boat, is quoted to the effect that the vessel-was despatched with the object of 2 os islands, at the same time to eradicate the misunderstandings, entertained by the authorities and people in those ands - concerning the attitude of Japapers, as well as to promote friendshim with them. In the South Bea islands. the people declare that a Japanese propriotor; of a barber's ship was auddenly appointed an officer during the Russoapaneso war, and proceeded to the front and since that time they have regarded all Japanese, evenilabourers, as military spice. Such a misunderstanding had been cleared as a result of the visit of the gun-boat. The visit had also exercis d the effect of moderating the feeling of Chinese in Java against Japanese. The gun boat was enthusiastically welcomed at the Philippines, probably in return for the reception accorded to the Amoric in flest in Japan. Begarding the Californian question, some of the natives saked the crew of the gun-boat when the war would break out between Japan and morion. I owever, they were ab esse when told that the rel times between Japan and America will remain friendly. In the Philippines, most of the Japanese are engreed in pearl fishing and others in solling merchandser in the Dutch Indies.

Misunderstandings are aptito; ocour bet ween Japanese and natives lowing to the immorance of Japanese of native languages. It is therefore, advisable for those who proceed to these districts to learn the mative languages. The commander states colonies for Japanese, and desires that persons with some capital, and occupation will proceed there

In connection with the above, a Sydney N.B. REDNESS, BURNING

On Chest and Back. Came Out In. Open Bleeding Sores. Pain So Severe Could Get No Rest. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured.

76. Knowsley Rd., Norwich, Eng. -- My complaint started over nine months ago with redness, burning and itching on chest and back. I went to a chemist who supplied me with scap and obtament but instead of it gotting better as I hoped both chest and back came out in open bleeding scree. The pala was so severe I could get no rest at night. I continued the remedies, the trouble was "Three weeks ago I saw the Outleurs advertisement, and sent for sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I washed the affected parts with warm water and Cuticum Scap, then used the Ointment. From the first time of tising, the smarting coased. When I had used sample I sent to the chemist for some more and now thanks to the Cuticur remedies I am completely cured. The Soap I shall always use as I much prefer is to any others I have tried. The cimment I shall keep in the house in case I hear of anyone else requiring it." (Signed) Miss-M. Sher-
